

Leonie Isaacson

Leonie Isaacson is a HR Management Consultant & Coach with extensive experience of working with individuals at all stages in their careers. She specialises in individual development and performance either 1:1 or within teams, career and executive coaching, outplacement, recruitment management and leadership development. She is currently coaching Senior Managers, Directors and Chief Executives in organisations within the NHS, FTSE 250, Professional Services & Higher Education sectors.

Her early career was spent as a Chartered Surveyor running a department for a national practice. Prior to joining Obsidian, she was with Hays Plc for over 11 years, where she was a recruitment consultant for 7 years, recruiting up to Director level across a broad range of sectors. For the past 4 years, she has been a HR Management Consultant, where she concentrated on career, performance and executive coaching and outplacement. Leonie is our most recently recruited consultant.

A business graduate, Leonie holds a Post Graduate Diploma in Career Management & Counselling. She is a trained Career and Executive Coach, is Level A&B BPS qualified and a member of the ILM.